

I can't really tell much of a difference between the two. If I had to say something, I would say that the `<h1>` in chrome appears a little bit brighter than in safari. I did notice that the drop-down menu on the contact page was completely different in safari compared to what I had in chrome.